I have a good family horse to sell cheap. J. B. Donnell.

Call and see the Champion Time Binder at this office.

FARMERS should be certain to see this. D. Wearen before selling their wool.

The Richmond new Standard's $75 for the widow of Judge Harlan, and want $5 better.

BAIT AND SHOT MAKERS.—F. G. Ready and W. C. McKinney have formed a partnership in bait and shot making, and ask the patronage of the public.

The courthouse square improvement committee has had a large number of water pipes set out, and in a year or two we will have as shady and as pretty a park as anywhere.

The Winter has broke. A certain man who wears three overcoats has laid by one of them, and uncle Ed. McClellens says that this is a better indication of Spring than the return of the birds.

FIVE days of splendid weather have worked wonders in vegetation. The bluegrass hills and the trees tell us that the Springtime has at last come. The farmers and gardeners are making hay, and the sun shines.

LETTERS.—Wm. Warren, the man indicted for soliciting the Sheriff to summon him as a juror, was let off with an admonition, as it was clearly proved that he had no criminal end in view in getting on the jury, and that his act was in ignorance of the law.

AFFIDAVIT.—The decision of the Court in the case of the Sheriff, has been affirmed by the Court of Appeals, that Court holding that where a party has paid money to the Sheriff of a town for any privilege, and the ordinance imposing the burden is valid, he is entitled to recover back the amount thus paid, if paid under a belief that the burden was lawfully imposed.

FINDING FACTS.—Sometime ago was published a clipping which said that there were but four people in the world that could make a first-class fiddle. Fleming Brady, of this place, a natural born genius, did not believe the story, and straightway set himself to work to make one, and he has succeeded most admirably. The instrument is very handsome, and is pronounced by those who know how to draw the bow, as a remarkably sweet-toned and superior one. Mr. Brady will part with it for $25.

THE Pink Cottage Faith Cure is becoming very popular for those seeking a restoration to health. Among those staying there are Miss Alice Barbee, of Danville, who has been paralyzed from her waist down for twenty years; Miss Mary Stephenson, of Lancaster, blind for the last nineteen months; and Miss Elsie Sutherland, of Hall's Gap, severely afflicted with spinal disease. Many others visit the place daily and join the good women presiding, in prayer. All the patients say they feel greatly improved already.

TO COUNTRY HUNTERS.—Mr. C. C. Graham, of Louisville, called on us this week and asked on request everybody who has geological specimens and who wish to contribute them to his museum to leave them at this office for him. He has now one of the largest collections of natural curiosities in the country, and the sole subject of the few short years that can be left him seems to make it as comprehensive as possible, as he will leave it as a legacy to the State of Kentucky. The Hunter is a living curiosity himself, being sixty-seven years old, with all his faculties, save hearing, in a remarkable state of preservation.

ANOTHER DIVORCE.—Sometime ago Col. R. Allen brought a suit for Frances McAlister, colored, against her husband, Joe, alleging abandonment, cruelty, adultery, and all the other grounds for divorce, but when the case was called last Court he did not appear, because the witness by whom he could prove these allegations had died. It seemed, however, that Joe was anxious to have the bonds dissolved as his wife, and he got Judge J. M. Phillips to attend to his case. The Judge prevailed on Col. Allen to agree that his case be reinstated, and Judge Dwyer finally consented to allow it. Then Judge Phillips filed a cross petition, setting forth nearly the same charges against Frances, and on the hearing of the case Saturday, Joe was granted a divorce.

THE Circuit Court just closed got through with 107 cases, divided as follows: Forty-three Common Pleas, thirty Equity, and thirty-four Ordinary Appearances. A number of them had been on the docket for a long time, one for eighteen years. This is not a bad showing even for a few weeks' Court. Judge Dwyer tries to expedite the business of his Court, but one of his great faults is to argue points with counsel after he has decided them, thereby losing much time. He is one of the best judges of law in the State, as the tests of his decisions show, but sometimes he is slower than a snail in his reasoning, and he can never make his law as plain as he could. His rulings are final. This we attribute to his knowledge of the extreme goodness of his heart, but it gets away with time all the same.

AN OLD PAPER.—We have been shown by Miss Sallie Harrison, a copy of the Western World, "from the press of Joseph M. Street," Frankfort, bearing date of September 17th, 1897, which she found among the old papers of her grandfather, Rev. J. C. Barnes. In its announcement, the editor says that he will publish on such days as may suit the mails, at $3 per year in advance, or $4 in promissory notes. The paper before us contains a long article in which H. Marshall denounces some charges that N. Richardson had made against him as "base and villainous falsehoods," and Richardson himself as "a slanderer for the Spanish conspirators." There is, also, an installment of the testimony in the trial of Anna Burr, for high treason against the United States, and an account of a barbecue at Versailles, prepared by the patriotic citizens of Woodford for the Woodford volunteers, under command of George Francher. Gen. Marquis Valdes presided, and Col. Young acted as Vice-President. A number of toasts were responded to, and Mr. John C. Henderson made "an impressive speech on the events that have led to the present state of affairs." Among the advertisements is one of "Robinson's Tavern," kept by Wm. Robinson, in Versailles; another of "Washington Inn," Frankfort; and still another of "Havenport's Inn," Danville, by Richard Havenport. It is quite interesting to note the improvements in typography that seventy-five years have wrought.

FARMERS have commenced planting corn.

Mrs. Robert Lusk has been suffering with a rising in the palm of her left hand. It is thought that she will lose her hand. The young gentleman that was so anxious for Easter to come says that he don't want it to come any more since he saw his sweetheart riding with another fellow.

Present indications there is some danger of matrimonial fever breaking out in this vicinity now to an alarming extent. One case has already made its appearance.

The Champion Time Binder is the best in the market, at J. B. Donnell's.

THE WEAREN is unloading today a carload of Champion Reapers and Mowers. Call and buy before they are all gone.

THE Millennium is near at hand. A circus has exhibited in Lancaster without anybody getting killed and in Stanford without any rain.

J. B. HENRY has two nice Pianos and some new Buggies, which he will sell at a bargain, if application is made in a few days at the Carriage Shop.

NINETY-NINE.—Mr. Harrison Bailey, a brother of Judge W. H. Bailey, of this place, has been nominated by the Democratic State of Shelby for the Legislature.

THE Railroad Commission will have their next Tuesday. Susceptible young ladies are warned against Judge J. E. Kincaid, as he will walk off with their hearts.

THE Commissioner of the Jury Fund, Mr. A. R. Penny, tells us that the pay of jurors during the last Circuit Court amounted to $1,000.00. A good deal of it was very badly spent.

W. J. WITHERS, with Geo. H. Warren, is giving his special attention to the trade in Champion Reapers, Mowers, Thomas Hay Rakes, Webster Wagons, Mayfield Water Elevators, Domestic Sewing Machines, Wood, Grain, etc., at the Carriage Shop.

SPEAKING LUMBER.—L. E. Emory, Kate Weaver, Maria Jones, Lucinda Ann Enbanks and Agnes Jones, all colored, were hauled before the Police Court yesterday for stealing lumber from J. S. Murphy, and holding in the sum of $25 each in the next Circuit Court.

CONNECTION.—In our article regarding in Equine Portman's card, published on the 14th of January, we said by implication that delinquents for the year 1874 had been referred, upon Equine Portman's motion, in the Justice for investigation. In fact, we were in error. It seems, as it is only the delinquents of 1870 and 1877 that we are referred.

For a little money you wish to be one of the best dressed men in our county, leave your measure at our best and most reasonable of Louisville Tailors, J. Winter and Co., corner of Third and Market Streets, Louisville, Ky. Their show-room of piece goods is on the second floor. In all the days of our life we have never seen such a tasteful assortment. We trade at that place.

LEADERS.—Miss Emily Gibson, who attempted to commit suicide last week by taking laudanum, was tried on a writ of lunacy Wednesday, and ordered to the asylum. She has been in that institution before, but was discharged apparently well. She is forty-eight, and seems to want to harm no one but herself. Speaking of lunacy, Judge Brown says that in the two years that he has been Judge, not less than ten persons have been sent to the asylum from this county.

THE CROPLAND.—The contract for building the cupola of the Presbyterian church has been let to Mr. R. H. Warren, for $300. The design, which was made by architect J. B. Carrigan, of Danville, is a very handsome one, octagonal-shaped and rising forty feet above the roof of the church. The work is to be completed by July 1st, but Mr. Warren says he will finish it much before that time. We have labored for years to this effect, and we "praise the Lord" to know it is a near accomplishment.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

Richardson.

Phil. C. Soden left on the 15th for Indianapolis, Ind., to visit relations.

Isaac Hamilton has gone to Louisville for good goods.

Prof. Sibold has another singing place, which took place Thursday night. A. D. Underwood has fully recovered and is again on his legs.

After a lingering illness, Mrs. Milton, wife of Wm. Milton, died of Consumption on Friday 15th, leaving five small children, who, through the misfortune of their father, are left in an almost destitute condition. The good people, however, are trying to supply their wants and console them in this their greatest affliction.

It was our good fortune to accompany Stanley Grand, Abbotson, J. W. Alcorn, to McKinnon on the evening of the 18th, at which place he instituted a Lodge of the Knights of Honor with seventeen charter members. He discharged his duties as instituting officer in a most satisfactory manner. After the organization was complete the following officers were elected for the present term: J. H. Hickey, Dictator; J. B. Read, V. P.; H. S. Hinch, H. P.; W. L. Lasky, A. P.; T. C. Christensen, R. P.; F. M. Ware, F. R.; and K. L. Tanner, Treasurer.

We have reasons to fear that this place and Stanford will lose the benefits that would arise from the building of railroad shops at the Junction, as it is rumored that the company will decline to purchase lands here at the price offered, when the citizens of Crab Orchard will likely give them lands to build on, and thereby make what shops we now have. It is believed that the company wants the lands here at a certain price rather than accept lands elsewhere as a gift. Let us have a committee appointed to ascertain the most they will give, and then raise money by subscription to pay the remainder of the price asked for the owners of the land, and let this be done at once. We know a man of means in your town who will contribute liberally.

The Sunday School at this place was largely attended last Sunday, and being the most important of all church auxiliaries, the necessity for a larger building is more freely discussed. For this reason, regular school and church purposes, Phil. Rogers proposed to head a subscription list with $25, and has prepared several papers for subscription and put them in circulation. He says he expects to call on some of his Stanford friends for help. This is a good enterprise, and we predict for it an early and abundant success. If we would keep people from crime, we must educate them. With a proper system of education, our prisons would not be crowded, our courts would be less busy, and our streets would be safer. A good school does more towards regulating the morals of a country than a dozen courthouses, and is not half as expensive. Let us have a good house built!

Mrs. Robert Lusk has been suffering with a rising in the palm of her left hand. It is thought that she will lose her hand. The young gentleman that was so anxious for Easter to come says that he don't want it to come any more since he saw his sweetheart riding with another fellow.

The young gentleman that invested in the Louisiana Lottery was so sure that he would get the capital prize he had spoken for boarding for two but since the drawing came off he has been looking rather blank.

Rev. Mr. Tupper, of Harrodsburg, delivered an interesting lecture to the Sunday School at Providence Sunday evening. He says there are three very essential things necessary to make a Sunday School a success, namely, greenbacks, grit and grace.

Miss Jennie Harlan left on the 1 o'clock train Monday for her home in Missouri. During her stay here she made a host of friends, who regretted to see her leave. Some of our neighbor boys are looking, it is said, for Miss Harlan, of Richmond, spent last week with Mrs. Betty Simpson.

A lady of this vicinity had her cow attached short time ago for her husband's debts. A sympathetic lawyer saw her in distress, went and told her to bring suit for the cow, that he would attend to the case for a mere trifle. She agreed, so he pitched in and gained the suit, and sold the cow for $30. After deducting costs and lawyer's fee, she only had $5 left. A lawyer's sympathy is valued rather high.

TRAIL ORCHARD.

Don't forget the prayer meeting at the Christian church every Wednesday night.

The old saying, "It takes a fool to catch a fish," has been contradicted, for some of our most intelligent citizens have been angling this week with much success.

Those composing our sick list this week are: Dr. Delaney Light, with Rheumatism; a little son of W. T. Sanders, and the children of W. F. Kennedy, with Measles.

How many days shall we have passed, one of our most notable young ladies will be led to the matrimonial altar by this plain handsome widower of this place. You can't guess who it is, but "ye shall know hereafter."

George King, Jr. had his spirit raised a few days ago with great "tolerance." Mr. Henry Spratt, of Lancaster, presented him with a handsome violin. These fine musical rights are highly prized for serenading.

"A hint to the wise, etc."

A man by the name of Joseph Heiler was found dead upon the railroad, near the depot, last Saturday. Mr. Heiler was supposed to be the cause of death. His remains were taken to Tipton's Creek for interment on Sunday.

The celebration of the birthday of the President of the United States has been observed in this vicinity with much interest. In the morning, the flag was hoisted on the flag pole in the town square, and in the evening, a large number of people gathered at the depot to witness the lighting of the lamps.
